I collected a number of fonts and attempted to draw a few. I found most of them from magazines and using WordArt on Microsoft word.

DVD

Font 1 - I like this font as it bubbly and different. I think this would stand out clearly as a DVD cover however I don't think it would suit a children's cover.

Font 2 - I like this font as it seems child like which would be suitable for a children's film. If I used it I would make the font bolder to make it stand out more.

Font 3 - This is one of my favourite fonts as it has an eye-catching fun look to it and would stand out, however I don't think it will present the title clear to the audience.

Font 4 - I like this font because it is bold, simple but would look good and will clear to read. This would be a possible font for my cover.

Font 5 - I don't like this font as it is boring and more formal. Not appropriate for a child's DVD. However it is an interesting style which could be developed.

Font 6 - This font has a good style, it's bubbly and bold and could look eye catching and clear on a DVD cover.

Lickied

I liked this font because it stood out to me. It's different but clear. I like the idea of different sizes and a slight development to each letter.

These were two of my favourite fonts that I collected from a magazine.

SKECHERS

This was quite bold and eye catching. The plain fit stands out clear with attractiveness.
